

Shon F. Barnes

Shon F. Barnes is a Captain with the Greensboro Police Department and is currently commander of the Central Patrol Division. He has also served as a patrol officer in the Eastern Patrol Division, School Resource Officer Section, a detective in the Juvenile Services Unit, a corporal in the Professional Standards Division, a sergeant in the Property Crimes Section, and Executive Officer of the Central Patrol Division, as well as, Commanding Officer of the Southern Patrol Division.

Barnes attended Elizabeth City State University where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in history/pre-law. He received a Master of Science degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Leadership Studies at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University. He is a graduate of the Southern Police Institute at the University of Louisville, and the Senior Management Institute for Police sponsored by PERF. Additionally, Barnes is an Adjunct professor of Criminal Justice at North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University specializing in Police and Police Administration.