

Sheldon F. Greenberg

Sheldon Greenberg, Ph.D., is Associate Dean of the School of Education, Division of Public Safety Leadership, and Associate Professor of Management at Johns Hopkins University. In this capacity, he directs the Johns Hopkins University Police Executive Leadership and Intelligence Analysis Programs. He also directs the Johns Hopkins University formal partnerships with the U.S. Secret Service and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), both within the Department of Homeland Security. For almost two years, Dr. Greenberg served as Associate Dean of the Johns Hopkins Division of Business and Management (Carey Business School).

Prior to joining Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Greenberg served as Associate Director of the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) in Washington, D.C. He began his career with the Howard County, MD, Police Department, where he served as a patrol officer, criminal investigator, supervisor of the youth unit, director of the police academy, director of research and planning, assistant to the chief of police, and commander of the administrative services bureau. He has worked with the U.S. Marshals Service, U.S. Border Patrol, Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Homeland Security, and Department of State in a variety of capacities. He serves as an instructor for the Maryland State Police, the Maryland Police Training Commission, and other police academies nationwide. He is one of the founding members and past president of the Maryland Crime Prevention Association.

Dr. Greenberg worked with police agencies in Cyprus, Jordan, Kenya, Panama, Hungary, Pakistan, and the Czech Republic. He has served on national commissions and task forces on violence in public schools, race-based profiling, police response to people who have mental illness, police recruiting, highway safety, military deployment, and homeland defense. He served on leadership committees for the International Association of Chiefs of Police and the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies. He is the author of numerous articles and several books including Stress and the Helping Professions, Stress and the Teaching Profession, and On the Dotted Line, a guide to hiring and retaining police executives. Currently, he is completing his fourth book, Mastery of Police Patrol, to be published by Pearson Prentice-Hall, and his fifth book, Geriatrics for Law Enforcement, to be published by Jones and Bartlett. Dr. Greenberg has served as an expert witness on police operations in federal and state courts.