

Trevor Stutz

Trevor Stutz is a lawyer at the law firm Susman Godfrey LLP. He graduated from Brown University in 2007 and from Yale Law School in 2012. He then clerked for the Honorable Richard A. Paez on the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Prior to law school, Trevor was the national communications manager for Teach For America. He has also worked for the United States Attorney's Office in Brooklyn, the D.C. Public Defender Service, and the law firm Paul, Weiss. For the last decade, Trevor has been committed to contributing to public policy in the areas of criminal justice, education and voting rights. His essays on policing and the criminal justice system have appeared in the New York Times and the Boston Review, and his academic writing has been published in the Yale Law and Policy Review and the Environmental Law Reporter.