

Caroline Van Zile

Caroline Van Zile graduated from Yale Law School in 2012. Prior to law school, she taught seventh grade English at M.S. 534 in Brooklyn, NY. Inspired by her experience with her students, she developed a keen interest in education law and juvenile justice. During her time at Yale, she worked on projects with the National Center for Youth Law, the San Francisco Public Defender's Office, the U.S. Department of Justice, and the Equal Justice Initiative. Since graduating, Caroline has been a law clerk to federal judges at the trial and appellate levels. She is currently clerking for Justice Anthony Kennedy of the U.S. Supreme Court.
